

Hong Kong Scout - Health Guard

As the novel coronavirus continues to spread around the globe, experts have been striving to find the best cure despite the uncertainty of how viral the disease is going to be. In view of the current coronavirus outbreak, the Scout Association of Hong Kong strongly encourages all members to maintain their personal hygiene at all times and share health protective advices with their families and friends. It is important to stay positive and safeguard our health against the spread of virus. We can all learn from the bravery of St. George and his noble spirit to help people and oneself at this difficult time.

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) have always been an initiative of the Scout Movement, and the third goal “Good Health and Well-being” reminds us to always maintain a healthy lifestyle while promoting the well-being for people of different ages. This serves a great opportunity for scout members to be a Messenger of Peace, fulfil their duties and responsibilities as active global citizens.

All scout members are encouraged to take immediate health protective measures, contributing to the community through helping people and helping oneself.

The Association now launches the programme “Hong Kong Scout – Health Guard”, for more details please stay tuned to the programme website (<https://prog.scouting.org.hk/HealthGuard>) and the Association Facebook page (<https://www.facebook.com/hkscout>) (please refer to below for QR code).
